Is your child a True Granger?

As you are now aware the Co-op ways of being allow students and staff to demonstrate that they are true Grangers. I am sure you agree that at this time more than any, we are all having to be resilient. This half terms focus is on resilience - please let us know if your child has shown resilience at home by emailing us at the usual address. truegranger@coopgrange.co.uk

Our Ways of Being

Denise Anitha 8J

For challenging herself to read a harder monologue than the one I planned to give her, she asked for the more challenging one, she used her Fresh Start strategies to help her breakdown the difficult language and practise reading/pronouncing the hard vocabulary- Nominated by Miss Airey.

Hajra Ayub 9G

She has continued to amaze me with her positive attitude and hard work. Nominated by Miss Spilsbury.

Anam Hussain 11F

During self isolation Anam has ensured she is logged onto her laptop on time and regularly checked her emails.

She paid attention to all the important information given during live sessions. Anam always ensured her camera and microphone were off and was always ready to listen carefully during live classroom sessions too. She Had a notebook ready always to make notes of what she needed to so that she can allow herself more time to complete the tasks if needed. She has tried her very best and myself and her dad are very proud of her.

Well done to all of our nominees this week - keep it up!
